

100% Vegan & sustainable

by Xapron

Apple skin is a durable and low-impact leather alternative. Made from residual apple waste, it's 100% vegan. After years of research we were able to find a material that looks just as beautiful as our natural leathers. Xapron Apple skin will be available in a small selection of styles and colours.

What is Appleskin

AppleSkin™ is a vegan leather alternative, produced at FRUMAT, an innovative factory based in Italy. AppleSkin™ is a bio-based material and utilizes the waste from the local fruit juice and apple sauce industry. Once the juice has been extracted from the apples, the peels, stems and fibres are ground into a fine powder which is mixed with an organic pigment and transformed into Apple leather. Apple leather consists of up to 40% residual apple waste from skins, stems, and fibres of the fruit. The remaining material is a blend of polyester, PU, cotton and viscose, which is used to strengthen and support the apple waste. This combination is currently essential to the strength and durability of the material. The final result is a 100% vegan material, ready to be made into Xapron products.
